Greetings. I would be happy to share my video for your project. However, I do not own any rights to this recording. The video is mine, but the music is copyrighted by other folks. I suppose your project would allow you to use this music as a teaching aid.

Anyway, if you can work out the details with the music rights, you can certainly have my permission to use the video.

That's about the best I can do. Good luck!

Cliff

To: cdbpdx Dear Copyright holder, I am a librarian with the Washington State Open Course Library Project. The purpose of this project is to design openly licensed courses that can be taught face-to-face, hybrid and/or online. These courses will be freely available on the internet for anyone to copy, modify and use. One of the purposes of this project is to offer educational resources to regions where formal educational opportunities are scarce or expensive. You can find more information about this project at the Open Course Library site at www.opencourselibrary.org. One of our faculty members who is creating a course on HUM101: Humanities 101 would like to use the following video: St. Louis Blues by WC Handy and Orchestra, <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dmFUXYaZIMk>. We are seeking your permission to distribute this material as part of our course. You will maintain your copyrights, but will be giving us permission to distribute this material for reus... Thank you Cliff for your quick reply. After doing some checking I believe we can use your video for our project. Our next step is to upload the video to our youtube channel and caption the video for educational purposes.

Again, thank you for your generosity, it is most appreciated.

All the best,

Tria Skirko
