Dear Copyright holder,

I am a librarian with the Washington State Open Course Library Project. The purpose of this project is to design openly licensed courses that can be taught face-to-face, hybrid and/or online. These courses will be freely available on the internet for anyone to copy, modify and use. One of the purposes of this project is to offer educational resources to regions where formal educational opportunities are scarce or expensive. You can find more information about this project at the Open Course Library site at www.opencourselibrary.org.

One of our faculty members who is creating a course on HUM101: Humanities 101 would like to use the following article: Misconceptions about evolution, http://evolution.berkeley.edu/evolibrary/misconceptions_teacherfaq.php

We are seeking your permission to distribute this material as part of our course. You will maintain your copyrights, but will be giving us permission to distribute this material for reuse as part of the teaching of this course. A full citation for the work will accompany it, as will a statement of copyright ownership and notice that the work cannot be distributed for reasons other than education. If you have a preference for how your work is shared we encourage you to send along a pdf or other stable text document.

If you feel that you cannot grant permission to redistribute your copyrighted material may we please seek permission to link to your resource through this project.

Please contact me at triaskirko.wvc@gmail.com or by telephone at 509-422-7830 with information about this request. We request a response by May 30, 2012.

Thank you for your time and attention.

Regards,

Hello Tria,

We aim to make all of our materials freely accessible for use by others and are pleased that you wish to include the Misconceptions about evolution within your course. We would be happy to have you link directly to the materials, but we can also make a pdf version available for your use as well.

Sincerely,

Judy

And just to clarify on the response below. We request that the materials not be framed in any way so as to obscure the url.

Thanks,

Judy

Hello Judy-

Thanks so much for the reply. A pdf version is the preferred format for the course, it comes down to the interests of sustainability. If it's possible to send along the information in that way we would really appreciate it.

Thanks again,

Tria

Hello Judy-

We are finalizing things and I realized that I have never received this pdf. Would you still be willing to make the copy?

Thank you,

Tria

Hi Tria,

I am so sorry. I was sure that I had sent this earlier, but alas, I may not have. Here you go and apologies for the delay!
